3rd Symposium of the ICTM Study Group on Audiovisual Ethnomusicology

Bologna, Italy, 21- 23 September 2020

Hosting institutions: Università degli Studi di Bologna.

Conference venue: Università degli Studi di Bologna, Bologna, Italy

Conference dates: 21-23 September, 2020

Conference language: English subtitles are required for all films

Presentation: The Study Group on Audiovisual Ethnomusicology welcomes scholars and filmmakers to submit films of an ethnomusicological nature to be included in our 2020 meeting. We are interested in films made by and/or for ethnomusicologists, and particularly films that inform, and/or are informed by diverse ethnomusicological research methodologies. Understanding filmmaking as a valuable and multifaceted tool in the creation and dissemination of ethnomusicological knowledge, we hope to use our international symposium to showcase and spark dialogue about the many creative ways scholars are using this medium in research, outreach, and teaching. Although full-length ethnographic films are welcome (90 minutes max), we also welcome short films (no minimum length) or collections of short films (2-4 films) that dialogue with one another.

Guidelines & Submission Dates:

Maximum allowed length for films and documentaries is 90 minutes. Film abstracts should include the hyperlink to the complete film to allow film committee to review the work. Films can be easily password protected through websites such as Vimeo and YouTube. If you need assistance with this please contact the film selection committee, we would be happy to walk you through this process.

All film proposals should be submitted by the deadline (May 30th, 2020) to the e-mail address avebologna2020@gmail.com. The email should clearly indicate the name of the author/s and the title of the film. An attached Word or Openoffice file should contain the abstract (max. 250 words). Multiple proposals of the same author are allowed only in these cases: 1 paper + 1 film; 1 paper + 1 workshop.
